view to putting more burdens on some states than on others, and it is not well to have that sense of injustice rankling anywhere."

The problem of alien registrants, other than enemy aliens, came before the Senate in a resolution introduced by Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the Military Committee. It provides for the drafting for military service of citizens of countries at war with Germany who are now residing in the United States upon the same terms as American citizens are liable under the National Army bill.

The resolution seeks to meet the views of the State Department, however, by excepting from its action citizens of countries which have treaties with the United States prohibiting the enforced military employment of the nationals of each party in the territory of the other. There has been no indication whether it will have Administration approval.

In the House a resolution declaring that the secretaries of War and Commerce in fixing the quotas of the states and territories on the basis of registration and not on the basis of registration and not on the basis of registration have acted illegally; and calling upon them to furnish the House with their reasons for so ignoring the express provisions of the conscription law, was introduced by Representative McCulloch, of Ohio.

Sending of Northern Troops to Train in South Is Denounced

Washington, July 18 .- Attacks upon the War Department's policy of training National Guardsmen in Southern camps continued to-day in the Senate. Senator Lodge wanted to know why it was that the National Guard from New England is to be sent to Southern training camps, while the army to be raised by conscription is to be trained at a camp in Central Massachusetts.

"If the Massachusetts camp is good enough to drill one set of troops in enough to drill one set of troops in winter," he asked, "why is it not good eaough for the others?"

Senators La Felette and Watson also voiced opposition to the sending of Northern troops to the Southern camps. Senator. Watson expressed the belief that there was something back of the plan, other than military reasons.

Senator Knox said he had received information that the camp at Plattsburg was to be broken up and transferred to a site at Atlanta. Senator Watsoworth corroborated this report and characterized the policy as "inconsistent." He said the camp at Plattsburg, which represents an investment by the government of $500,000, was to be abandoned the middle of August, although the climate around Plattsburg in the fall is ideal and training could continue there as well as in the South. Senator Townsend told of protests by the officials of Michigan against the sending of their National Guard to Waco, Tex., and he thought there was something behind it which should be explained.

Senator Weeks indorsed the protest of Senator Lodge, and said he knew the opinions of Major General Wood and Surgeon General Gorgas had not been asked by the department.

Control bill, temporarily laid aside, was taken up again.

Unexpected hitches—several of them—upset the plans of Deputy State Attorney General Roscoe S. Conkling and the Mayor's Committee on National Defence to clean up yesterday the preparatory work of all the draft exemption districts in greater New York and send the records to Washington and Albany. At 8 o'clock last night about fifteen districts out of 189 had not completed typewriting the serial lists and amendment to create a commission amendment to create a commission.

would not adjourn till the work was finished.

While the few lagging boards were cleaning up their work the Adjutant General's office in Albany was sending broadcast to exemption boards in this city as well as throughout the state blanks of draft instruction and stationery. The boards were ordered to hold themselves in readiness for the draft lottery and be fully prepared to proceed with examinations of drafted men. The physical examination will be performed by the physicians on the boards, who are for the period of the draft full-fledged Federal officers.

Big Task Is Ahead

The exemption board officials have learned already enough of their duties to harbor no illusions as to what is in store for them. They will sit as a board of examiners and as a court of exemption to pass upon claims of those who feel that they have valid excuse for being relieved from active military service. There will virtually be 189

Most of the club accompanied Sergeant Reid and his ten patrolmen to the roof of the building. But, though they all searched earnestly, they could find no wireless. But when Reid reached the street there was the blue spark still flickering from the roof. "Stop those elevators," he shouted to his followers. The elevators stopped, and so did the spark. There was a faulty connection in the raising and lowering apparatus on the roof. The flashes given off when the cars were in motion comprised the wireless plant. The only part of the mystery not yet leared up is what Wireless-hunter Reid said. Pennerman.

Russia's Latest Crisis Expected to Strengthen Nation

By ISAAC DON LEVINE

The New Russia is experiencing its third crisis. Each preceding crisis has made the young Slavic Republic stronger than before, consolidating a larger section of national opinion behind the temporary government.

A much more powerful and firmer Russia is being forged in the flame of the present conflagration. Already as a result of it the council of peasants' deputies, representing more than a hundred million muzhiks, has joined hands with the council of workmen and soldiers. This union provides the Pro-visional Government with sufficient backbone to weather any internal

Will Not Tolerate Violence

However, the council will not tolerate acts of violence. The council is determined to keep order in Russia, and it has the power to do it. The order of General Polotzeff, declaring Petrograd in a virtual state of martial law, is the council's answer to anarchy. If the Leninites continue their anarchical activities, they will be crushed with an iron hand, as the council and the Provisional Government possess the confidence of the army and the Cossacks.

There can be no doubt of the government having full control of the situation. The more riotous the extremists become, the better for Russia and the world, as that would cause the nation to rise and rid itself once for all of the disturbing communistic and pacifistic elements.

The internationalist Maximalists are doing more than any other influence or factions, including many Socialists, side with the Russian Provisional Gov-ernment in its decision to grant Fin-land only broad autonomy till the Con-stituent Assembly meets.
